The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. This derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest pre-disposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucus and slime, which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose the surest and best remedy is Fehenck's Mandrake Pills. These Pills clean the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and rouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels, and liver are thus cleansed The Cause and Cure of Consumption secreted.

The stomach, bowels, and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid and the appetite poor. In the bowels the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good hearty appetite. and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of Consumption is the free at d persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expect all the diseased matter, in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Coasumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs,—a cavity or abscess there,—the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things,—a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regain health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's Medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lines. system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be
It is important that while using Schenck's Medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm supplies. I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold, while using my Medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured; and it is precisely the same in regard to Consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed Consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my Medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot, with safety to the patient, be exposed to the biting blasts of Winter or the chilling winds of Spring or Autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility. I wish it distinctly understood that when I recom without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the Medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen. have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building, at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my Remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

Washington News and Gossip. INTERNAL REVENUE .- The receipts from this source to-day were $392,745.54. MR. LEROY TUTTLE, Assistant Treasurer of the United States, who has been very ill, is slowly recovering. MR. W. W. CORCORAN is rapidly improving in health. He rode out to-day, and his physicians feel confident of his complete recovery. MR. HOLMES E. OFFLEY has resigned the secretaryship of the Board of Public Works. It is not probable that his successor will be appointed until the return of Gov. Cooke from Europe.

THREE PER CENTS CALLED IN .- The Secretary of the Treasury has called in all three per cent. certificates between numbers 2,366 in 1 2,592 of $5,000 each, and all between numbers 2,366 and 2,566 of $10,000 each; the total amounting to $1,500,000. HASN'T MADE HIS REPORT .- The statement in a morning paper that Gen. Spinner has made his annual report to the Secretary is incorrect, and so, therefore, is the assertion that in it he reflects severely on the Paymaster General of THE HIGH JOINTS NO. 2 APPRECIATE NATIVE TALENT .- The foreign moinbers composing the American giru British mixed commission have given evidence or their appreciation of our "native talent" by appointing T. C. Cox, of this city, as their secretary. The State Department, with which Mr. Cox has been long connected, heartily approves the selection. THE KUKLUX TRIALS TO GO ON .- The following telegram relative to the trial of the kuklux at Raleigh, North Carolina, was received at the Department of Justice yesterday from the marshal of the State:-"Judge Bond refused this morning to continue the cases upon any arrangement. Plato Durham continued his case upon affidavit. Nine pleaded guilty to-day. Judgment will be prayed in their cases." CHARLES MATHEWS, the English comedian. made his first appearance in this city last night, and was received by a good house. His style is more quiet than most of our American come-dians, and the nice points of his acting are not always appreciated by American audiences; but it speaks well for our Washington play-goers that, despite the balks in the performance through some of the stock company not being up in their parts, the exquisite finish, airy grace, and brilliancy of Mr. Mathew's acting was recognized throughout by prompt and continuous applause. His enunciation is somewhat novel here, abounding in those rising inflections noticed in Dickens in his readings, and which pronunciation is not as some sup-pole the cockney utterance but that of the cultivated Englishman. Usually it is more dis-tinct than our pronunciation because it does not allow the slurring-over of letters and sylla-bles as with us; but in the case of Matthews his rapidity of utterance, and possibly defective teeth, makes it necessary to follow him closely to catch all he says. His inimitable by-play, too, needs to be watched closely to be properly appreciated. Last night it was a study to see him keep up his own lively parts and at the same time drag the faulty performers through theirs; prompting, directing changes in position, &c., &c., and all in scarce detected "asides."

To-night he appears in the same capital bill and it will go off undoubtedly without hitch, the company having had full opportunity for re-hearsal. We advise all play-goers to see this fine We are to have another series of important State elections, this month. First on the list is Texas, where a special election for congressmen begins to-day to continue four days. The canvass has been a very bitter one, and the result is doubtful, especially as the republicans are divided in two of the four districts. The republican candidates are: 1st district, George W-Whitmore; 2d, Alex. M. Bryant, A. B. Norton, independent; 3d, Wm. T. Clark, L. D. Stevenson, independent; 4th, Edward Degener. The democrats have only one candidate in each district. namely: 1st, W. S. Herndon; 2d, J. C. Connor; 3d, D. C. Giddings; 4th, John Hancock. In 1869, the republican majority for the State ticket was only 338; but that party elected three congressmen by the following majorities: 1st district 1,050; 3d, 8,018; 4th, 17. The democratic majority in the 2d district was 2,023, leaving a net republican majority in the State of 7,117. The people of Rhode Island vote next Monday, October 9th, on the amendments to their State constitution. The first relieves alien residents from the property qualification to enable them to vote, and establishes an educational qualification; the second abolishes registry laws; the third prohibits appropriations or imposition of taxes for sectarian schools. On this day week, October 10th, three important elections occur. Ohio elects State officers and legislature, and votes on a revision of the State constitution. That the republican State ticket will be elected is conceded, and the chief interest centers in the contest for the control of the legislature which will elect a successor to Senator Sherman, and have charge of the new apportionment of the State for the election of congressmen. The last legislature stoodon joint ballot-69 republicans, 72 democrats, and 7 reformers, who have usually voted with the democrats. In 1869 the republican governor, Hayes, was elected by 7,518 majority. Pennsylvania votes the same day for auditor, surveyor, and legislature. Philadelphia will elect a mayor and city officers. The republican majority in 1869 was 4,596, and the Legislature last chosen stood, on joint ballet, 72 republicans, 61 democrats. Iowa votes the same day for State officers and members of the legislature. The republican majority for Secretary of State in 1869 was 42,489. California chooses judges of her supreme court October 18th, and West Virginia will close the elections of the month on the 26th instant, by choosing delegates to the constitutional convention, (which the people voted in August to hold,) and also members of the legislature. The legislature last chosen, stood, on joint ballot, 26 republicans, 52

People rich enough to give large sums of money for charitable purposes had better follow the examble of Mr. Peabody and Mr. Corcorangive it before their deaths and while they can see for themselves that it is properly applied. Those gentlemen have the satisfaction of knowing that the meney is used in accordance with their own plans, and not squandered among lawyers, or diverted in a way altogether foreign to the purposes of the donor. The same may be said of Peter Cooper, who founded the Cooper Institute, of New York, and who has for twenty years been witness of the beneficent results of his charity, and enjoyed the honors accruing from it; of Mr. Cornell, who founded the Cornell University; of Mr. Vessar, who founded the Vassar

Female College, and of many others.
On the other hand, the cases where money left by will is applied in any other way than that designed by the testators are numerous. If the will is not contested by interested parties, the probabilities are that the institution established will be anything except what its founder desired it to be. There are accounts of three notable cases of contested wills in the papers at this time: those of Mr. Champion, a millionaire of Rochester, who died leaving nearly all his property to religious and charitable purposes; Mr Bonard, of New York, who, having no relatives he knew of, or wished to assist, left his large property to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals; and Mrs. Martha P. Wurz. who died in France last January, leaving half a million to be scrambled for. It is extremely doubtful if the charitable purposes of any one of the three will ever be realized.

FROM EUROPE TO-DAY. Telegraphed Exclusively to The Evening Star.

Germany Won't Tolerate Any III-treatment of Her Citizens in France. London, Oct. 3.—It will be remembered that a forthight ago Baron von Arnim, the German plenipotentiary at Versailles, made a formal complaint to the French government of the unfriendly treatment to which German citizens were subjected by the inhabitants of Lyons. At that time the French Minister of Foreign Affairs promised to investigate and render satisfaction for the injuries committed, with security against similar occurrences. It now appears that the French authorities have not acted with sufficient vigor to satisfy the injured Germans, and Von Arnim has addressed a renewed remonstrance to Count Remusat, couched in very decided terms. He rehearses the grievances arising out of the conduct of the Lyonnais, and concludes with the opinion that the half measures adopted in the case will prove very unsatisfactory to the imperial government at Berlin. Count Remusat has replied with further assurances of the determination of the government to protect and indemnify the Germans, and promises that the affair at Lyons will be rigidly investigated.

AN ERONAUT FALLS A MILE AND IS DASHED TO PIECES.—At Paoli, Orange county, Indiana, last Saturday, Prof. Wilbur made atrangements for a balloon ascension. He was to be accompanied by Mr. George H. Knapp, but as they were getting into the balloon the cords gave way, and they made a spring for the car, but only succeeded in grasping the ropes. As the balloon rose Mr. Knapp let go and fell thirty feet without serious injury. Prof. Wilbur held on and attempted to climb into the basket, but was unable to do so, and the balloon shot upwards rapidly, with the zeronaut hanging below. The spectators were thrilled with horror at the terrible scene which ended in a dreadful manner. At the height of about one mile the doomed man let go his hold, and came whirling to the earth. As he approached the carth he was feet for most, then spread out horizontally, then doubled up, turned over, and then straightened out with his head downward. As he struck the earth he fell upon his head and back. His head was mashed into an undistinguishable mass, and his body was bruised and crushed horribly. The body made an indentation in the ground eight inches deep, and it rebounded four feet from where it struck—Professor Wilbur's wife and little daughter were on the ground at the time, and witnessed the terrible affair.

THE PRICES OF ANTHRACITE COAL.—The Philadelphia Ledger of yesterday says: "The public sale of anthracite coal at New York last week has had the effect of stiffening prices of coal generally, and in some instances advances have been established even greater than those shown at the auction sale. This increase in the price of coal is, no doubt, in consequence of the shortened supply, as compared with last year. This, however, should create no alarm. Much, if not all, of the difference short, it is expected, will be made up before the close of navigation; if not all, of the difference short, it is expected, will be made up before the close of navigation; and if it should not be by that time, it can easily be supplied by rail all through the winter, as the market may require. There is reason to anticipate a good, strong market for coal to the end of the year at current prices, which slightly advance to-day, say 25 cents per ton over last week's quotations; but there is no reason to anticipate any very material further advance, unless there is some difficulty at the mines, or some unwarranted combination to force the market to unnatural figures. unnatural figures.

"ENGLAND'S LAST QUEEN."—A cable telegram from London says that: "The Prince and Princess have arrived at Balmoral Castle, where Mr. Gladstone is also a guest. It is rumored that their visit is in connection with the abdication of the Queen in favor of the regency of the Prince of Wales. The popular opinion is that the Queen will take this step. The Conservatives approve the project for the assumption by the Prince and Princess of Wales, of the social and public duties of the Queen—to prepare the people against a crisis in the event of her sudden death. The argument of the Conservatives is, that the entire absence of court receptions and public pageants, in which the Sovereign should participate, since the death of the Prince consort, has fully prepared the people for the Republic, and strengthens the project of Messrs. Odger, Bradlaugh and other Republicans, who declare that the reign of Queen Victoria extinguishes monarchy in Great Britain."

The affair grew out of an old grudge. Thomas alleges self-defence.
